× IMPACT < >

Design has definitely a big impact in our planet. We are at a turning point and everything we do today needs to change. Crisis has always been the most favourable condition to stimulate creativity: an opportunity to rethink the design process and how to inhabit the planet, that is no longer "fresh". According to the etymology of the word, crisis means "CHOICE" (krisis in Ancient Greek). The scarcity of resources and the urgent environmental concerns, oblige us to rethink concerns, oblige us to rethink our practices and the use of materials. We are facing an opportunity to build a better future.
